Sponsorship Support Package

Cedar Nation supports cultural systems of knowledge, artistic practice, and strategic connections for contemporary Native expression.

CEDAR NATION

Valued Community,

It is with respect and gratitude that we share the heart of our work to expand Native connections in the arts. The essential intention in our mission is to transform the deficient representation of contemporary Native artists and culture bearers in galleries and institutions. Accompanying the necessity for visibility, we hope to encourage authentic partnerships through the strength of collective leadership.

Cedar Nation holds a diverse representation of creative expression and advisors that reaches across generations and regions. Your sponsorship will directly support artist-led exhibitions, storytelling initiatives, and land-based projects that center Native voices, art, knowledge, and vision.

We are living through an emergent time that demands a commitment to weave community together. We are able to strengthen collaborations with shared values to provide not only visibility—but celebrated, sustained, and empowered artistic expression.

The first free public exhibition titled Ascending: The Liberation of Native Art will open on Friday March 27 2026. Cedar Nation is continuing efforts to fund the vision through the generosity of mutual care and shared effort. If you are able to help, every donation will directly invest into this exhibition and future projects.

Kutaputush (thank you)

ABOUT THE VISION

Cedar Nation plans to extend and connect the diverse talent and knowledge that inherently exists in our communities. It is through the efforts passed down through many generations that we continue to reclaim our seat at the proverbial table.

Cedar Nation draws its name from the shared traditional reverence for cedar, honored from the Pacific Northwest across the Great Plains all the way to the First Light tribes of the Northeast. It reflects the unity and power that come from working together.

Cedar Nation embodies the knowledge and talent of many people to find space and opportunities to work together. As an inter-tribal collective, our capacity to collaborate on group exhibitions and projects is transformative. Our circle is a place for supporting and expanding Native friendships while honoring autonomy and shared growth.

How: Cedar Nation will hope to elevate its cohort through projects and website visibility. This is the intentional work of encouraging art galleries, collectors and other organizations to engage and support the diverse talent among our communities.
